

Wine list a highlight at Long's House

Penrith's newest dining venue, Long's House, has officially opened, offering perfectly aged wines, delicious food, and unmatched views.

Vince Capolupo and Richard Kelaher have been friends for over 30 years, and have long aspired to open a restaurant together, with Capolupo the owner of Lakeside Restaurant in the Regatta Centre, and Kelaher a self-proclaimed lover of food and wine.

For the last six years, they've been waiting for the perfect opportunity, which they found in the historic Long's House.

"When this came up, I just thought it was perfect. It had the right feel, the right vibe," Capolupo said.

The menu has a contemporary Australian theme, with some European delights. But, the owners' pride and joy is the extensive wine list, which features a variety of options including some of their own personal favourites.

With this, they're hoping to bring something different to Penrith's dining scene.

"It's hard to find restaurants with aged wine, or wine at the right time to drink, plus a menu that matches such wine," Kelaher said.

The venue is open for breakfast and lunch every day, as well as dinner from Wednesday to Saturday.

Long's House is located at 81/151 Old Castlereagh Road, Castlereagh.

Brisket Boys roars into Leagues Club

Penrith's beloved barbecue restaurant Brisket Boys has opened a second location that's got everybody talking.

Brisket Boys was established with a passion for low-and-slow barbecue inspired by the great state of Texas.

Big state, big love of barbecue, and an equally matched love of sport.

The opportunity to partner with Panthers, located downstairs in The Basement Sports Bar - one of western Sydney's best sports showcase venues - has allowed Brisket Boys to design a sport bar-inspired menu perfect for pre-game, during, and post-game catch-ups with friends and family.

Menu highlights include their classic burger range featuring brisket, pork and fried chicken, as well as deluxe sandwiches like their Philly Cheese Brisket and The Reuben.

Loaded fries and other barbecue snack items are also available, perfect for sharing with mates and family.

"Partnering with Panthers has been a seamless transition for Brisket Boys and our team. They have been incredible and very supportive in their onboarding and support... especially the loaded fries - the Panthers staff are loving this particular menu item!" Brisket Boys Co-founder, Dan Latty said.

"With two home games remaining plus hopefully lots of Finals footy involving Penrith, as well as the Sunset Bash on September 21 and of course Father's Day this Sunday, we are really keen to keep building our new customer base and providing a great barbecue inspired menu."

Barbecue and sport combine not just in Texas - Penrith now has a Brisket Boys at Panthers!

For a full American barbecue experience, including All You Can Eat Barbecue, visit the Brisket Boys team at their North Penrith venue at Manufacturer.

Penrith CBD's food scene is first class

Not sure what to get dad this Father's Day? Skip a trip to the city and instead head into the Penrith CBD for endless options when it comes to food and drinks.

According to Penrith CBD Corp CEO Gai Hawthorn, it's now more important than ever before to support our local businesses.

"We want to ensure that in the future, we have these local businesses at our doorstep, and if we don't shop and dine local, we'll lose them," she said.

With Father's Day now well and truly right around the corner, Hawthorn said it's the perfect time to do so.

"Whether it's food or gifts, the CBD has it all," she said. "Don't go into the city. Stay local, support local, and they'll be here for you in the future."

If all dad wants for Father's Day is a delicious meal, there are plenty of options of all cuisines to choose from in Penrith.

"My favourite is the breakfast side of it, so if you're considering that, you've got plenty of options; 4oz & Co, Screaming Beans, High St Depot, Natural Choice, and Mr Watkin's," Hawthorn said. "Then, in the evenings, you've got Savoury Dining, Happy Inn, Checho's - the list goes on and on!"

But, if you're looking for something a little more out there, Hawthorn has a few more suggestions.

"If you're not thinking food, you've got Narrow Escape Rooms for a bit of fun, you've got Mrs C's Cupcakes who is catering for dad, Poles Patisserie also have some special Father's Day cakes happening, or maybe shout him a tattoo for something different!" she said.

After Father's Day's over, though, there's no point in stopping - head out in the sunshine, and into a local business.

"Venture out, the weather's great!" she said.

Berry delicious options at Acai Shack

You can now purchase the acai bowls of your dreams right in the heart of Penrith, thanks to Acai Shack.

Acai Shack opened up on Evan Street in November 2023 after plenty of hard work and sacrifices from sisters Roseanne and Reanne.

The duo said the idea came from their eagerness to keep up with popular trends in the local area and entertain the community by opening seven days a week for the early birds and night owls.

They're doing this by taking acai bowls to the next level.

Not only do they have the basics, but they also provide different flavours every fortnight according to the requests of their customers by adding a poll on their Instagram. This includes coconut, dragon fruit and even pistachio soft serve. They also have a wide range of toppings and sauces, as well as other desserts like Dutch pancakes and cakes on display.

You can also head down for your daily coffee, cold drink or frappe.

Over the last year, Reanne said the business has been progressing and growing thanks to both social media and word of mouth, adding that they're extremely grateful for each and every one of their customers.

But, they're hoping to see even more locals walking through the doors to try their delicious acai.

There is plenty of parking available. They also have both indoor and outdoor seating areas, and a TV displayed to keep the kids entertained.

They're at 62 Evan Street, Penrith.

Enjoy a delicious variety of Pizza, Kebabs, Hamburgers, Chips and much more!

Online ordering is available, and our entire menu is on our website.
